[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Peking.—With the government's consent, Minister of Communications Wu Yu-tai and General Yang I-chang have proceeded to the stronghold of the bandits in order to obtain the release of the foreign captives held captive.

Are Killed Instantly.
The Lincheng report said the Chinese victims were killed instantly. The alleged prisoners were said to have been intended to impress on the Chinese government and the foreign diplomats that the bandits meant what they said when they announced that all the prisoners would be slain unless the bandits, terms were complied with. The period of the ultimatum sent out Sunday by the bandit chieftain, granting three days, was believed to have expired Tuesday night or some time Wednesday.

Leaders of the bandits are said to have met emissaries Tuesday at Dragon Paw Cliff, 10 miles north of Tsao Chwang. Counter proposals were discussed and it is believed that the ultimate final decision was forwarded Wednesday.

The demands emphasized, as basic requirements, that the foreign diplomats guarantee the bandits against reprisals from Chinese or foreign sources, and also the diplomats pledge the carrying out of the general terms. The terms do not mention ransom, but demand numbering 8,000, into two brigades, with Sun Mein-Jan, one of the bandit leaders, appointed brigade commander. The bandits also demanded that the Italian attorney, one of the captives, be reported in a desperate plight from illness.

NO PROGRESS TOWARD RELEASE, SAYS MINISTER.
Washington.—Minister Schurman reported today that no progress was being made in negotiations between the Chinese authorities and the bandit leaders for the release of the captives and other foreigners held captive in Shantung. The minister said there were indications that the negotiations might drag indefinitely.

SHORT PIG CROP

RURAL CARRIERS

IN ROCK COUNTY GO ON SCHEDULE

Loss on March Litters Runs from 50 to 65 Per Cent Among Herds.

Swine breeders of Rock county report the heaviest losses among spring farrowed pigs in their experience. Adverse weather conditions during March and early April have caused a loss of from 50 to 65 per cent of all the pigs farrowed.

Last fall the breeders and farmers held over an increased percentage of sows and farrowed pigs, and the heavy pig crop. The belated warm weather upset the forecasts. During a trip to the Footville, Hanover and Evansville district made in the interests of the Rock County Pig Club, a number of Duroc herds were inspected. The breeder that has a lot of good quality pigs "is sitting on the world," for spring litters are going to be lacking in number.

Breeders face one of two things to offset the losses, either improved pens for farrowing with a system of exercising the new pigs under cover, or later farrowing dates. Breeders reject the heart rendering losses when the cold and backward spring cut into their herds 30 and 40 pigs a week and litters from high priced animals died like flies, turning up their toes almost overnight.

Secure Club Pigs.

The Duroc association has pledged itself to secure the wanted gilts for the pig club and sows secured Tuesday as a start. Not a breeder refused, no matter how severe his loss.

Clarence Croft, Janesville, has about 100 pigs left out of 235 and as usual, the Fashion-Croft herd has some real toppers. There are a number of spring litters left that are going to do Croft a lot of good in the future. The most of the spring pigs are sired by Fashion Premier, the best show pig of the herd, and this animal is showing more type and class than ever. He is of the type with high, wide high back, but is just putting on depth. Fashion-Plate is the sire of many of the pigs. From the Croft herd an aged sow that is a "ringer" is being fitted up for a yearling together with some others.

L. A. "Ruchli" had the fortune of having extreme big litters from his line of brood sows, at one time being a record of 20 pigs. The roster of the Neb Duroc stock register, and the misfortune to lose 40 per cent. Ruchli has less than 50 left, nearly all sired by Neb Sensation, a fine Duroc that has shown his abilities as a sire. Ruchli has one junior yearling that will win if kept coming, being one of the smoothest pigs in the county.

Over at the farm of John Fisher and Son, there were 44 pigs from five sows, with the loss of some of the stock. Fisher has a sow obtained from the Selkirk boys and has about 10 sows, 11 and 12, and saved the bulk of the pigs.

Has 100 Grades.

Selek Brothers at Hanover, who owned Giant Masterpiece, stated by judges to be one of the best herds of the Duroc breed, has about 90 spring pigs from Cherry Orion Sensation and Giant Masterpiece Jr. There are several good show sows on this farm and an exceptional future in the breed. They have one little of nine sired by Pathmaster out of a dam that is a little-mate to Bandmaster, sired by Sensation King, pretty good Duroc blood.

C. Miller, a feeder, rather had good luck or good judgment with his Durocs and cross-breeds. He has 190 spring pigs all farrowed late and the bunch is thriving and healthy. The litters were large and not subject to the adverse weather. Also Miller put his brood sows out in a cornfield during the winter months and fed them light. They were fairly thin at farrowing time and came through in good shape. The most of the pigs were sired by a son of Valley Giant, the champion boar at the Janesville fair last year, owned by Henry Wieland and Sons, Beloit.

Floyd Selk at Footville purchased a number of top sows last fall, putting in considerable money, and out of 70 spring pigs, just 20 are answering mess-call in the Selk herd lots in Footville. Selk is in the future contest with pigs from a sow carrying Pathmaster blood. But Selk was also "game" for the junior pig club, putting in one of the good gilts for a boy or girl.

The Penn Herd.

Rock county is going to hear from George Penn and Son, Evansville, route 17, this season. Penn is using a son of Jack's Big King, called Big Sensation, a good hard stayer. Penn has 45 spring pigs and 16, and among this lot are as good pigs as are inspected on the trip. They came from good sows and were farrowed early. He has a lot of good pigs that can later. Penn will show a future litter and has a number of good show pigs.

George Morrison, Evansville, had 100 pigs and kept 35, and most of them sired by Giant Orion, a grandson of Great Wonder I Am. One could pick a number of right type pigs from this herd, but as in all the other herds, losses have cut in heavily.

There will be a shortage of gilts next fall. The losses are general throughout the state. The pork market is holding around eight cents and the future is most uncertain. Taking the Wisconsin pig crop as an example, there is certain to be a shortage of early farrowed pigs and certainly there will be a shortage of breeding stock.

FORECLOSURES ON SEVERAL FARMS

Remarkable that he had had more mortgage foreclosures in Rock county this year than in any previous year, since he has been on the bench. Judge George Grinn ordered foreclosures on several farms Monday and Tuesday.

Foreclosure on the Morton R. Fish farm in Johnsonville valued about $23,000 was ordered, on a mortgage held by George G. Kleih, represented by Attorney Charles Williams, Whitewater. The mortgage amount to $21,159.33, and there is a second mortgage of $5,500 and a lien of $1,000.

John W. Christ was granted foreclosure and sale was ordered on a $35,000 farm owned by James W. Allen. Redemption may be made up to Oct. 15, 1923, under the order of the court.

Foreclosures were ordered in actions of Marcus F. Hoesley against Chloe J. Nichols et al and Peter Gottfried Althaus et al. In the latter George DeBruin, secretary of the Rock County Trust and Savings bank was appointed receiver.

Can Fresh Pineapples Now!

This is the time to can pineapples at home. They are cheap now during the height of the season. The season is short, so don't delay.

Beautiful, big, sweet, golden-brown pineapples are arriving every day by fast steamers from Cuba. For this is pineapple time in the West Indies. The finest pineapples grown come from Cuba where soil fertility and rainfall unite in growing these delicious fruits to rare perfection.

Canning pineapples is simple. Prepare them as shown here, the way Cuban housewives do it.

Run the cores and peels through the chopper to extract all the juice. Strain and add this to the syrup the fruit cooks in.

Place the cut up fruit in a preserving kettle and cover with water, sweetened with cane sugar, to which you have added the fruit juice.

Cook slowly until moderately soft. Fill jars with the cooked fruit, pour enough syrup from the cooking to cover, then seal tightly while still hot.

Pineapple, canned this way, is superior to the commercial canned fruit. It has more of the taste of fresh fruit.

My Baby Skin
 After 40 years in the limelight, I took like a girl of 19. That's what young girls envy my complexion.

This is largely due to a super-clay, perfected by 20 years of scientific study. It is white, clean, dainty, and amazingly efficient. Many women seem to drop ten years with one application. Now you too can have it. Edna Wallace Hopper's White Youth Clay. Price 50c and $1. I urge you to learn what it does.

"We are to use the place," said Louis, yesterday, "as a bargain store to carry a line of goods less expensive than those in the present Golden Eagle. We feel there is a class of people here who wish less expensive goods, the kind usual

The new store will be run strictly on a cash basis, any other system being out of the question considering the narrow margins on sales that will be made.

Old Age Pensions.

Much is being made of the fact that the first old age pension bill to be passed and become a law in the United States has been in Pennsylvania, by the advocates of a similar measure in the state of Wisconsin. The old age pension comes to us from across the seas where entirely different situations exist in reference both to life and employment. Opportunity here for changing from one sphere of action to another is within the reach of anyone, while in the older and caste countries of Europe, a man who begins at the bottom almost always remains there. But the Pennsylvania law is interesting in many ways for the Wisconsin advocates and opponents of the Gilead old age pension bill.

It was estimated that the old age pension law would cost the state of Pennsylvania from $25,- 000,000 to $50,000,000 every two years. The original bill called for an appropriation of $2,- 000,000 to begin with but in the committee having it in charge the total appropriation was $35,000. It then was dubbed a joke and that the appropriation was only one one-thousandth of the amount really necessary to carry out the provisions of the bill. Wisconsin being about one-third of the size of Pennsylvania, the total cost here based on the Pennsylvania figures would be between $8,000,000 and $17,000,000 each two years—quite the largest appropriation we would have in the state and almost equal to the total amount now appropriated for running the whole machinery of the general state government.

Some of the features of the bill are that its enforcement is in the hands of an Old Age Assistance Commission of three citizens named by the governor. They get ten dollars a day and necessary expenses while performing the duties of the office. Then in each county another board of three persons is named by the governor. They get only necessary expenses.

The amount of assistance to be paid from the State Treasury is to be fixed with regard to conditions in each case, but in no event shall it when added to the income of the applicant from all other sources, exceed a total of $1 per day.

Old age assistance may be granted only to an applicant who is seventy or more; has been a citizen for at least fifteen years; has continuously resided in the state for at least fifteen years preceding the application or has resided forty years in the state, five of which immediately preceded the application; is not an inmate of a correctional institution; has not for six months during the fifteen years preceding the date of application deserted wife or husband without just cause; has not within one year been a bor-gar and has no person to support the applicant.

Von Hindenberg says we are going to war with Japan soon. He will probably lose that line as he did another quite famous and supposedly impregnable one.

Quarreling Over Mother's Day.

It is not at all pleasant for one to note the quarrels over so excellent an idea as Mother's Day but a vast array of words have been moved across the distance between Philadelphia and New York in the last week over the subject. The discussion is between a New Yorker of a philanthropic turn and noted for his charities generally and the president of the Mother's Day International Association. The peculiar part of the controversy is that each charges the other with having "commercialized" Mother's Day to the profit of and for the benefit only of the florists.
The New Yorker is accused of wanting flowers worn and the president of the association wants a button worn with the picture of a flower. He says she wanted carnations only to be worn.

It all means that the sentiment and beauty of the expression for Mother's Day has been lessened materially. Mother's Day should be remembered and its sentiment preserved. To commercialize it is to take away the very element that makes it something noble and inspiring. It makes no difference whether the flower be something exotic or otherwise expensive, be worn or presented in remembrance or whether anything at all is worn so long as the heart is right and Mother is remembered, the object sought is obtained.
Better than all the flowers is to write a letter to the absent mother or best of all is to remember that Mother's Day in our childhood was every day in the year and each passing minute was here in our behalf.

COLLECTION OF ARCHITECTURE

Washington.—Museums are now urged to collect doors, stairways, and even entire houses to add to their collections. Architecture, so architects believe, should be given a place in the museums as the mother of the arts and as the art which most vitally concerns our daily life.
Such exhibits would enable the public not only to become acquainted with examples of the best American design and construction, but also to absorb the fundamentals of good taste in architecture. Students of the builder's art would have a dependable source of information and inspiration for their work. The things that have been done by American builders in the past would be remembered more substantially than by vague tradition.

As it is, the most beautiful old portico or hand-carved mantelpiece serves its purpose and then is usually scrapped without any sentiment being wasted over its artistic significance.
Occasionally a building with an interesting past is rescued from a salvage company. An historic house in the path of a city's building progress arouses some patriotic society to indignation. The society dashes to the rescue, stirs up public sentiment, and raises funds to save another historic shrine for America.

But even a very famous house may not survive such a campaign. The Francis Scott Key mansion in this city, a place regularly sought out by tourists, was razed after an unsuccessful attempt to save it for posterity. And any house without a highly significant background stands practically no chance whatever of arousing popular interest.
All this seems unfortunate to architects who believe that the public has learned to associate historic importance with architectural merit.
There is a single illustration of these points:
Two houses stood side by side on Lafayette Square: one brownstone with garish interior, and the other a fine example of pure type. Both are gone to make room for the National Chamber of Commerce headquarters now being erected. The passing of the brownstone attracted a great deal of attention because Daniel Webster had lived there. The other house with its simple front and its tumbledown interior (now a limited appeal and no publicity). There was a scramble for a cast-iron dog, an ornate lantern, and some overlooked mantels in the brownstone. The colonial entrance of the neighboring house was dismantled, one man buying the column shafts without bothering to acquire the capitals.

To see a beautiful old doorway like this torn to pieces and sold as such lumber is to the desider of buildings as much as to the artist painting by a master should be scraped of its paint in order that the canvas might be used to patch a sail.

Of course it is out of the question to preserve all good work. It is merely proposed that some carefully selected exhibits should be acquired to represent the best work in each section of the great museums and to focus attention on the good and bad in building art. There are exhibits of this sort in Salem, Massachusetts and in New York City, and a national collection in Washington is now under consideration in connection with the national gallery of the Smithsonian Institution.

The national capital has in the past been the scene of a large number of architectural tragedies.
In each decade of the city's history striking residences have been razed as though the destruction of more and more of these old homes.
Even houses in sections supposed to be safely residential are being swept away to make room for apartment houses and office buildings.

But not long ago local interest in architecture for architecture's sake was aroused through the threatened destruction of a stately K Street home known as the Weston house as though it was the city's attention, the house was designed by Richardson, one of America's foremost architects, and that it represented some of the best work of Richardson's career.

A group of influential men were called together to see if something could be done, and a committee was formed. The architects were anxious to save at least the entrance, with its elaborate stone carving in sharp contrast to the enclosing ring of plain arch stones.

Horne W. Pease, chairman of the architects' advisory council of the city, and organizer of the group, pointed out that at the Essex Institute in Salem, exhibits of architecture are displayed just as old silver or furniture would be. A colonial house standing with a fine interior, as the town is shown off to advantage at the end of the Essex galleries. A venerable seventeenth century house, with overhanging second floor, latticed windows, and weatherbeaten boards, is set up in the garden of the museum and furnished inside with household articles of the period. A colonial entrance—white door with fluted and sidelights, white columns, and porticoes—has been placed against a wall of the museum building and shaded by vines.
A little New England "gent shop" is another relic preserved in the garden, and down the street from the museum a quaint Salem residence, complete in its own setting of lawn and garden, has been given to the institute with endowment for its maintenance.

It was further shown that in New York the Metropolitan Museum is arranging for architectural exhibits in its new American wing. The facade of the old assay office in Wall Street has been removed to the courtyard of the new wing and made a part of the building wall. Part of a church in Madison Square, designed by Stanford White, has also been saved for the museum, and a number of period interiors are to be set up in the galleries and furnished in appropriate manner.

From the example of these projects, Mr. Pease urged that the committee should concern itself not only with the Worcester house question, but that an effort should be made to start a national collection of architecture as a stimulus to similar collections in different parts of the country. Through Senator Lodge the proposition was submitted to the board of regents of the Smithsonian Institution, and permanent national collection will be considered by this board at its next meeting.

Meanwhile, the national museum agreed to place temporarily in a courtyard any architectural exhibits given to the government.

The Dean of Smith college says one may have a husband and a career also. All that is necessary is for the man to keep in the background and get his meals at a restaurant.

Eat 'Em.

Be kind to the lowly dandelion. It may be a bad weed but we have it and it is a gratuity of nature and provides for families who like them, a delicious table dish. The farmer or lawn owner will welcome the visitor who with trowel and knife digs up these noxious weeds. We have few of the diggers around Janesville because we have a small population of foreign born people and it is the European who appreciates the dandelion as an aid to the food supply. And the children like them as flowers and for all the fun they may be able to get from them with curbs and in scattering the seed. But they may be dug from the lawn and thrown away with real value to the lawn itself. We have never forgiven the man who brought the dandelion to Rock county as an ornamental plant.

Senator Moses has come back from Europe with the news that they all hate us over there.
He must have been a Moses in a wilderness of enemies.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.
WHEN IT COMES HOME.
Oh, we may read and hear of it and talk the tragic tale,
And we may think we understand the anguished mother's wail,
And we may dry a neighbor's tears and hold a neighbor's hand,
But when the grief comes home to us, 'tis then we understand.

Oh, we may see the darkened room where sad-faced people sit,
And we may send our flowers of love o' light the gloom of it,
And we may tell how sad it is, but we shall not know the pain,
Until the hurt comes home to us, the bitterness of woe.

For sorrow seems a distant thing when other things must
And far away the pain and grief when other hearts are torn,
For all the things we read about and all the things we hear
Are, but the things which drift across the sky and disappear.

But when the hurt comes home to us and sorrow finds our door,
'Tis then we learn how real is grief and what our faith is for,
When bitter tears are ours to shed and dark the way we fare,
'Tis then we come to understand what others have to bear.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

By ROY K. BOULTON.
TO HAPPINESS.
Just now, it seems, I held you
With a hard, convulsive grip;
It was too good I felt—I knew My hold was sure to slip.
I don't protest against the fact,
For inwardly I bleed,
For vigorously I detest
The taste of your poisonous seed.
I lived in careless ignorance,
And cared not much to know;
You came disguised as sweet romance,
To deal your cruel blow.
Have I some evil deed performed?
Somewhat I've sinned perhaps?
Pray, why thus my peace transformed?
Why suffer such remorse? —Aaron Zander.

Who's Who Today

LUTHER BURBANK.
Fifty years ago Luther Burbank began making plants do what plants never did before, for the use and pleasure of mankind.
Now Santa Rosa, Cal., is celebrating the golden jubilee of her most famous citizen. And the entire world is taking an interest in observing the half-century mark in Burbank's career.

On May 17 the city will open Burbank park, a 40-acre tract, as a permanent memorial to the extraordinary achievements of that half century. Luther Burbank was born on a farm near Lancaster, Mass., just off the main road to Harvard. His father was a prosperous farmer and his mother and unusually capable and active woman, with a passionate love for flowers.
His mother's garden and of his father's training on farm and orchard.

He went to district school and Lancaster academy. Then into the woodworking department of a factory, but the work affected his health.
He studied medicine for a year and then turned to what was to be his life work. On his third year an impatient prince grower wanted 20,000 young pine trees, ready for planting in 10 months. Growers said it was impossible.
Burbank planted 20,000 almonds. As they sprouted, he transplanted them and budded prune buds into them. In a little more than six months Burbank delivered the pine trees, 19,025 of them, ready to plant.

The Burbank potato was introduced in 1876.
According to a statement of the United States department of agriculture, it added $17,000,000 annually to the agricultural productivity of the country.
The thornless cactus created a world-wide sensation in 1896.

In one year he is said to have burned 65,000 two and three-year-old berry bushes in one bonfire, and had fourteen other bonfires of similar size, the discarded from one experiment.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

Liking the Paper.
The editor of a weekly paper sent out a questionnaire not long ago to find out what part of the paper people like best. He learned that 100 per cent of those who answered always read the personals, the editorial the correspondence and the front page articles, 94 per cent of them read the farm articles, 47 per cent the continued story and 30 per cent the advertisement. We expect this is about the percent in the case of most papers, although we have an idea that women readers generally are more interested in the continued story than in the editorial page. But what should be the most interesting fact is the large per cent who read the advertisements.—Whitewater Register.

the distance from here to Chicago in two hours, including 20 minutes for supper at Harvard.
The train took through here at a mile a min-ent daily output of the Knickerbocker Ice company's gravel pit south of town.—Shortage of stock has forced the Hough Porch Shade company to shut down for a few days.—Mrs. Eva Hilde, this city, has been honored by being named supreme receiver of the Royal Neighborhood of America.

TEN YEARS AGO
May 16, 1913.—A committee headed by Mayor James A. Fathers, and consisting of Frank Crunk, Frank Lane, M. P. Richardson, Edward and interviewed several legislators in regard to locating the state fair here. They found all to be conversant with affairs, probably through the trip made here a week ago by a special

REST AND ARREST
Fortunately for me, writes Mr. J.
E. Stocker, I learned before it was too late how to fight tuberculosis, with the result that at the present time mine is what is termed an arrested case.

Mr. Stocker wrote this in June, 1921, in the Journal of the Outdoor Life, published by the National Tuberculosis Association, 110 Seventh Avenue, New York, N. Y. He had learned in January, 1916, that he had tuberculosis—his doctor found the tubercle bacilli in the sputum. Then the battle was on. In September, 1916, his attention was called to some books in the public library which he read. From these books, he wrote:
"I learned that rest is by far the most important element in the treatment of tuberculosis, that rest is even more important than fresh air."
The books gave me the assurance that one need not have any fears for any ill effects upon other bodily organs from a prolonged stay in bed....

This naturally arouses curiosity as to what books gave Mr. Stocker such information. He sent me a copy of the list, of course, with the classic, Dr. Lawson Brown's "Rules for Recovery from Tuberculosis." This little book, published by L. C. Fabiger, New York City, is crammed full of solid meat; every one who has to fight tuberculosis should have a copy to read. It is a copy to be found in public libraries. The other books named by Mr. Stocker are Dr. D. M.
King's "The Battle with Tuberculosis," Thomas C. Gabbath's "Playing the Long Game," Consumption," Dr.
John B. Hawes, 2nd, "Consumption," and the Journal of the Outdoor Life.
In the free pamphlet reprint or version of Mr. Stocker's Outdoor Life article, "How I Won the Battle with Tuberculosis in My Own Home," which is distributed by the Tuberculosis Society of Detroit and Wayne counties, you can find a list of persons residing outside of Wayne County

HOROSCOPE

WEDNESDAY, MAY 16, 1923

Astrologers read this as a very favorable day for Saturn and Saturn are both in malefic aspect.
Under this rule the mind should be guarded against depressing and excessive thoughts, which are likely to assail it.

With Neptune in sinister aspect the human mind is likely to be subject to extremes of opinion and to be easily swayed from one point of view to another.

The rule is most menacing to all who seek public acclaim, and it encourages the most severe judgments.

This is not a favorable planet for government for the ambitions of men in high place.

The new moon gives a forecast of well-earned rather good for agriculture and there should be plenty of rain in most regions.

The lunation benefits education and should be beneficial to places of amusement.

The building of many new theaters or playhouses for community uses is again foreshadowed.

All the signs appear to indicate that commercial managers and producers of plays are to meet unprop-itious conditions.

Neptune on the cusp of the eighth house seems to increase much mortality from obscure and puzzling diseases.

Scientists are to promulgate new theories as startling as any heretofore advanced regarding the mysteries of human life.

Again interest in all forms of occullism is to be stimulated by propaganda in which prominent persons are concerned, it is prophesied.

Persons whose birthdays it is have a quiet year before them and they will find business or financial affairs quite as satisfactory as usual.

Children on this day should be cautious in choosing their friends, for these subjects of Taurus are likely to prefer strangers to relatives. They are likely to be fortunate in whatever they undertake.

"Bird Houses and How To Build Them"

This is the name of a free booklet which every bird lover should have.

These feathered friends make excellent neighbors. They are desirable about premises not only on account of their beauty and song, but because of their economic worth. All day long they will protect your trees, shrubs and gardens from ruinous insects.

No attraction for birds is more effective than a series of houses suited to the needs of the various kinds of birds.

These houses are not difficult to construct and are very inexpensive.

a number of them. Complete in-

Willard, Firpo Matched--565 at Sportsmen's Banquet

Copyright 1920, by Geo. McManus

WINNER TO MEET DEMPSEY LATER FOR HEAVY CROWN

(By Associated Press.)
New York.—The primary move toward another championship fight was made on Tuesday by Tex Rickard, promoter, in the signing of Jess Willard, former title holder and Luis Firpo, Argentine fighter, for a contest to be held in New York or vicinity not later than July 7.

The winner of this engagement will be matched with Jack Dempsey in a title contest, which probably will be held next Labor day. Rickard declined to reveal the terms for the Firpo-Willard match except that they will fight on a percentage basis. Experts, however, figure the bout will draw a share of at least $500,000 and the share of each principal would be at least $100,000.

Attitude of Muldoon Unknown.
The contest will be staged either at Boyle's Thirty Acres in Jersey City, or the Yonkers stadium. The Yonkers will occupy their park on both June 30, the original date suggested for the match, and July 4, but will be away on July 7. The attitude of the state athletic commission toward the match also may have a bearing on whether the bout is staged here. William Muldoon, chairman of the commission and author of the ruling prohibiting prize fights, has been appearing over 25 years ago from appearance in boxing contests in this state, and Willard to meet Floyd Johnson last Saturday because the affair was for charity.

It was believed, the age ruling will be set aside by the commission in view of Willard's victory over Johnson, a man half his age.

Willard, satisfied his victory over Johnson, proved his physical fitness, and the talk about his being too old, left Tuesday night for Los Angeles, to visit his family. He will return to New York the latter part of the month to begin training.

The South American has made arrangements to meet three lesser lights among the heavyweights before July 1. He resumed training on Wednesday for match at Grand Rapids, Mich., with Harry Foley on May 22. He has signed to meet Joe White of New York in Havana, Cuba, June 3, and Jim Egan of Buffalo, N. Y., June 22.

Should Firpo's match in Mexico City go through, it is improbable he could be ready to meet Willard before July 7.

Crowd Follows Firpo.
Firpo, second only to Willard in size among heavyweights contenders, has become quite a heroic figure to New York crowds. In a jaunt through Fifth avenue, Tuesday, the South American, conspicuous in a derby hat among the season's first straws, was followed by several hundred curious persons. Policemen scattered the crowd for traffic.

Receipts from the heavyweights boxing carnival at Yankee stadium Saturday were announced officially by promoter Rickard as $340,000. Of this, about the Municipal Milk fund, for the benefit of which the fights were conducted, will receive approximately $200,000. Promotional expenses including the cost of $35,000 for the ten boxers on the program, have not been definitely fixed.

Johnson Creek Lad on Second Wisconsin Crew

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison.—Now that the faculty of the University of Wisconsin has approved the recommendation of the athletic council that a crew be entered in the big Toughloosee regatta any time after the first renewed interest is shown in rowing.

Requires Real Man.
To many, rowing is the greatest of all college sports. It is purely a test of strength and endurance. The members of a successful crew must put grit, fighting spirit and soul into the race. It is not necessary, according to Coach "Dad" Neil, some of them have had previous experience to win a place on the crew. Many of the best men never saw a shell until they entered the university, but they had the height, weight and strength and the fighting spirit to win.

The members of the first and second varsity crews this year, together with their position and home, are:
Johnson Creek boys.
Varsity Crew—Stroke (No. 8) D. C. Newcomb, Waupun; No. 7, H. E. Johnson, Appleton; No. 6, E. H. Crozier, Milwaukee; No. 5, H. J. Schuetz, Middleton; No. 4, P. Osterstrom, Port Wing; No. 3, H. J. Benson, Kenosha; No. 2, L. H. May, Marinette; No. 1 (bow), K. G. Sly, Blair; Coxswain, C. G. Hausmann, Madison. All being Wisconsin boys.

Second Varsity Crew—Stroke (No. 8) D. B. Backlund, Delmar; No. 7, A. P. Platten, Green Bay; No. 6, E. M. Plettner, Algoma; No. 5, W. C. Smith, Appleton; No. 4, R. C. Kussendorf, Milwaukee; No. 3, C. G. Johnson, Appleton; No. 2, C. D. Pustost, Oshkosh; No. 1 (bow) W. F. Holmes, Chicago; Coxswain, F. L. Leuchling, West Allis.

Steeplechase Back at Dean's Parkway

Some of the best horses in Illinois will participate, and Sheriff Peter M. Hoffman of Cook county will be the judge of all events. Other racing features will mark the meet, which is under the joint auspices of the Dexter Park Racing association and the Illinois Automobile club.

COMPULSORY physical education in the schools of the state. A bill is now before the legislature for this purpose. So far it has not met with any opposition. Many of the young men are becoming recognized that training of the body is as essential as developing the mind. Physical education discovers faults in students and makes it possible to correct them.

Milton Invades N. W. Wednesday

Milton.—After a layoff of several days due to bad weather and interference of track practice with baseball, Coach Charles Wells up for the invitational indoor track meet which has been down to hard work again in preparation for Wednesday's game with Northwestern at Watertown.

A long fielding drill, with Captain Hutchins in charge of the infield and Crandall batting to the outer gardeners, was followed by a stiff batting practice in which every regular and scrub was given an opportunity to take several cracks at the horsehide. "Pete" Lamphers, whose pitching was an important factor in the one-sided victory over Lawrence a week ago, was expected to go to the mound again Wednesday. Lawrence Davis, utility infielder, fractured an ankle Saturday afternoon at Chrysler plant while attending the annual week end house party of the college boarding club. He will be unable to play again this season.

A social convention at the high school Wednesday and Thursday, which has been postponed for several days, will be held on May 27. That event has been postponed for work or longer, the date not yet set. Dorothy Knapf, girls' physical work director, will be in charge.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Enthusiasm for Outdoor Show at Great Meeting

With that common friendship of the great outdoors, 566 men and women gathered at the new high school cafeteria here Tuesday night in a banquet surpassing any ever held in the city and the most enthusiastic sportsmen's gathering in the history of southern Wisconsin. It was Twilight club-Izaak Walton night, closing the 27th year of the Twilighters and introducing the "Ikes" to the public as the youngest organization of its kind.

It was followed by a public meeting in the school auditorium at which 800 listened while Dr. H. J. Morlan of Chicago, holder of the 1922 fishing rights, spoke of the fishing championships of the United States, spoke of the wonders nature throws open to her children.

Many from Out of Town. Among those in attendance, were fishermen and hunters, with their wives, from Edgerton, Port Atkinson, Stoughton, Lake Geneva, Beloit and Rockford.

The banquet, made the brighter by Hatch's orchestra and the singing of George Hatch and "Bob" Dailcy of Beloit, was one talked about. The keynote was sounded when Judge Charles L. Milford, leader of the Twilighters and president of the Izaak Walton club, spoke of the duty of asking everybody to get acquainted with his neighbor.

The dining hour was unique. There were no speeches. The talks were left until the crowd filed into the auditorium.

Bradley Unable to Come.
Dr. Preston Bradley of Chicago, former speaker of the Twilighters in the nation, was scheduled to address. But, while the occasion was in its full swing, Dr. Bradley was in bed in his home in Chicago. He had been attacked and stricken at a funeral at Elgin, Ill., and was unable to rise. With such short notice, the national headquarters of the "Ikes" demonstrated their influence, procured Dr. Morlan. He was the first publicly director of the "Ikes", which now number 135 clubs with 25,000 members.

The talk of the evening was a recital of the experiences of the doctor, an instructor at the University of Chicago, in the wilds of Newfoundland and Labrador fishing for salmon. It was illustrated by slides, beautifully colored.

A Day for Sportsmen.
It is told how he broke a fishing championship record of that country by catching 50 salmon in one day, from 5 a. m. to 9 p. m. and 11 brook trout—all on flies. The total catch weighed 400 pounds. He used a 6-ounce red, small line, and a single hook. His largest fish was a 12-inch long and weighed 28 pounds. These fish he turned over to his guide who added them to his winter's stock of food.

Not a Good Sportsman. said the doctor, "to go out and fish enough and shoot enough to contribute to your friends. Let your neighbors go out and do likewise. He said, declaring that with the gradual lessening of game, the policy must be to leave something for posterity. He spoke on pollution and on deforestation, urging the public to interest themselves in these matters if they wish to continue to enjoy sport under the blue skies.

Everybody Needs Re-Creation.
During his talk, Dr. Morlan declared that as a physician he knows that a man may work 11 months in the year but it is impossible to work 12 months. The other month should be devoted to recreation.

Judge Milford was chairman of the meeting. The committee on arrangements was chaired by Edward Meyer.

NAMED COMMERCE AIDE.
Washington.—J. Walter Drake, Detroit Tuesday was appointed assistant secretary of commerce.

TWO REASONS WHY GIBBONS WANTS TITLE

Tommy Gibbons, Mrs. Gibbons and their three-year-old son, Jackie.

There are many reasons why any fighter cherishes a desire to win a title. Here are the two main reasons why Tom Gibbons wants to beat Jack Dempsey when they meet July 4 at Shelby, Mont., and carry the heavyweight crown from the ring. Said reasons are Mrs. Gibbons and the pride of the Gibbons family, Jackie, aged three.

Rain and wet grounds caused postponement of the dual track and field meet scheduled at Edgerton Tuesday between Edgerton and Stoughton high schools. The field was still too muddy Thursday for holding the event. It probably will be conducted at the Edgerton driving park next Tuesday.

WOLVES BOOK BURDICKS FOR SUNDAY CONTEST

Janesville Wolves will play their first home game of the season next Sunday when they cross bats with the first Burdick Cabinet company of Milton, at the Fordson diamond. The Wolves will hold a hard work out to pull together some of the weak spots shown in last Sunday's game when they lost to Afton, 12 to 13 in a hard fought battle when Ted Hager pitched against them. Practice will be held Friday night at 5:30 at the Fordson diamond.

BADGER DIRECTOR WILL RETURN SOON

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison.—Announcement is made that Prof. Fred E. Schlatter, who has so far recovered his health that he will return to the department of physical education of the University of Wisconsin next September and resume his work in charge of gymnastics and labor of women as a faculty member. During his absence, G. E. Lipden and Frank Lutz have handled his classes this year.

Our idea of a girl is a girl who makes a fool of herself while trying to make a fool of some man.

Gala Celebration Part of Scheme at State Classic

Madison.—Elaborate plans have been made by committee at the University of Wisconsin to make the 29th annual interscholastic track meet at Madison Saturday, May 26, the greatest of its kind.

High school athletes from all over the state have been invited. Early entries indicate great interest. There is a revival of interest in high school track competition recently, for the number of district and county meets has greatly increased this spring.

While the track meet is the feature event of the week-end at Madison, many activities are being planned by students of the university to interest the high school guests. A tennis tournament will be held Friday and Saturday to determine interscholastic net champions.

A mammoth water carnival is being planned for Saturday morning when students will engage in various water sports on Lake Mendota. The Wisconsin crew will meet the Duluth Boat club eight in late afternoon after the track meet, and the gala day will be finished with a gorgeous evening night spectacular which will take place on the lake after dark.

On Sunday morning visiting high school athletes will be taken on an auto tour about the city and the university grounds.

Valley Track Meet Ready for Friday

Arrangements are about completed for the Rock River Valley high school league track and field meet which will be held at the Edgerton driving park Friday. The tourney will start at 2 p. m.

The meet is under the auspices of Milton college. Athletes of that institution will act as officials.

Schools that are to compete are Edgerton, Stoughton, Milton Union, Port Atkinson, Jefferson and Lake Mills.

QUIT GRIND GAME NOW AUTO RACER

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Indianapolis.—Automobile racing robbed the gridiron of an embryo star when Frank Elliott, now a foremost pilot, forsook the University of Chicago and stole from the guiding wing of Alonzo A. Stagg to dabble with automobiles. Elliott will drive a Durant Special in the International 600-mile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, Wednesday, May 30. After starting in high school at Lathrop, Mo., for four years, an Ontario, Chicago, Elliott became an automobile salesman and was enamored by the artificial breezes created by speed.

After four years in Detroit in factories, Elliott went to California when road racing was at its height. He first appeared in the lists in 1915. In the tragic Corona event in which "Wild Bill" Burman met his tragic end, Elliott rode as a mechanic to Joe Thomas who drove into second place.

Washington.—The supreme court's decision, declaring unconstitutional the District of Columbia minimum wage law for women, likened the labor of women as a commodity or an article of commerce, thus overturning the principle of the Clayton act, Gompers declared.

SPRING FEVER CAUSES TRUANCY

More Cases Reported for April Than Any Month in Two Years.

For truancy and trouble in keeping children in school, April was the worst month since the attendance department of the public schools was started two years ago. Miss Rosemary Bright, head of the department, reports. Thirteen cases of truancy were discovered, as compared with five the previous month, three the month before, while during the winter there were months when there was none. These were the cases that were actually found to be truancy, while it is suspected that many more of the 103 cases of non-attendance were also truancy, as some were shielded by parents and otherwise made unable to detect. For March, there were 14 cases of non-attendance. Numbers reported for investigation during the past three months were April, 13; March, 23; February 6, giving Miss Bright one of the busiest months she has ever had. This was the more noticeable because of the let-up in work since the new building was entered.

Four cases of incorrigibility came up, some in court, while the month before saw but one, and there were 7 cases of neglect. Miss Bright made 22 visits to homes, 18 to schools, and seven to other agencies.

24 New Families.

Increase in constant enrollment during the month was evident, but was not up to the increase of previous months. Twenty-four families with 52 children entered, 15 families with 30 children left the city, and two children died, making the total increase 20, as compared with the March increase of 38. The enrollment is now 4,334. Those coming to the city with children of school age were from Bayfield, Delafield, Edgerton, Leyden, Mount Zion, Oshkosh, and Waukegan, Wis.; Chilago and Waukegan, Ill.; Boston, Detroit and Monticello, Minn. Occupations of parents were ranging company employee, carpenter, Chevrolet employee, druggist, laborer, mechanic, painter, plumber railroad employee and teamster.

Good Weather Aids Attendance.

The fairly good weather during the month, at least an improvement over March, decreased the absence. While it had been 6,306 for March, in number of days reported, the April total was but 2,864. Unknown cases dropped from 460 to 386, while illness increased from 1,769 to 1,861. The amount of unclassified illness decreased from 1,769 to 1,861. The amount of unclassified illness decreased, but an increase was noted in number of days lost because of trouble with eyes, ears, throat, contagion, tonsillitis and tonsillectomy, head-ache, blood poison, and sore hands and feet, practically the entire list of the month before, with the exception of teeth and colds, and other causes of absence, which aided in the increase of April, were help at home, oversight, lack of shoes, out of city, moving, pediculosis, neglect, truancy, social and miscellaneous. The reason was true with weather, which caused out of 50 days of absence as compared with 3,774 of March, missed bus, none as compared with 1, lack of clothing, 1 and 2, and religious holiday, none.

Large Barn in Beloit Destroyed

With the reflection in the skies visible as far north as Janesville, a large barn at the home of W. N. Shepard, 1454 Hillcrest, Beloit, was destroyed by fire Tuesday night, entailing a loss of between $3,000 and $4,000. A large amount of hay burned. The structure was located at the northwest corner of Hancock field and was historic insofar as Beloit college athletics are concerned, several thousand "kids" having perched on it in years gone by to watch football games. The Beloit fire department was unable to save the structure from complete destruction, as it had obtained a good start and there was practically no water available. Mr. Shepard is a retired farmer. The cause of the fire was not determined.

Freight Rates and Valuation

Wide publicity has been given to the statement that the value of all the railroads of the United States does not exceed $12,000,000,000, and that if such valuation had been used during the past three years in making rates, all freight rates, including those on farm products, would have been materially reduced.

That statement disregards the railroads' right under the Federal and State Constitutions to earn a fair return on the value of their property, and denies the validity of the valuation made by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

It also disregards the fact that the railroads during the 34 months prior to January 1, 1923, did not earn 4 per cent on $12,000,000,000, although authorized to earn 6 per cent on $18,900,000,000.

If, however, a valuation of $12,000,000,000 had been made the basis for rates instead of the valuation found by the Commerce Commission and the reduction had only applied to freight rates, that reduction could not have exceeded 2.1 per cent of the rates collected in 1922. This conclusion is emphasized by the following facts:

GROSS FREIGHT REVENUES OF ALL CARRIERS
FOR YEAR 1922
NET INCOME OF ALL CARRIERS FOR YEAR 1922	$4,007,014,655
5% RETURN ON ASSUMED VALUATION OF $12,000,000,000	600,000,000
EXCESS OF NET INCOME OVER THE RETURN ON THE ASSUMED VALUATION	$6,665,960

A deduction of this excess of $6,665,960 from the total gross freight revenues of $4,007,014,655 would have reduced the gross freight revenues only 2.1 per cent. If this reduction of 2.1 per cent had been applied to freight rates, with no reduction in passenger fares or other charges, it would not, in fact, have increased the amount received by the farmer for his products.

GRAIN

A reduction of 2.1 per cent in freight rates means nothing to the individual shipper unless expressed in units with which he is familiar and be large enough to be recognized in commercial dealings. During the year 1922 the Chicago & North Western Ry. Co.'s average haul and rates on grain were as follows:

	Average Haul	Average Rates per Bushel	Reduction per Bushel
Wheat	247 miles	7.14 cents	1.5 mills
Corn	254 miles	7.25 cents	1.5 mills
Oats	210 miles	5.29 cents	0.7 mills

A reduction of 2.1 per cent in this company's freight rates would, therefore, have reduced its wheat rates 1 1/2 mills, its corn rates 1 1/2 mills and its oats rate 7-10 of one mill per bushel.

Experience shows that grain does not vary in price at country stations by less than one-half cent per bushel and ordinarily by not less than one cent per bushel. As a result, the assumed reduction in rates on corn and wheat of less than one-sixth of a cent per bushel would not have resulted in the increase of a single cent to the producer of grain.

LIVE STOCK

	Average Haul	Rates per Cwt.	Reduction of 2.1%	Reduction per Animal, Cents
Cattle	240 miles	23 cents	4.9 mills	4.9
Hogs	210 miles	24 cents	5.0 mills	1.0
Sheep	352 miles	26 cents	5.4 mills	0.5

A reduction of 2.1 per cent would have reduced the rates on cattle less than five cents, on hogs one cent, and on sheep one-half a cent per animal, assuming cattle weigh 1,000, hogs 200 and sheep 90 pounds.

Such reductions mean little or nothing to the average producer of farm products, but a loss to the railroads of over $66,000,000.
